Why Sponsor The Coalition?

The number one factor that builds resilience in children is at least one stable and committed relationship*.

2813 children are living in institutions  in New York State.

AFFCNY supports families that care for children who have endured abuse and neglect so they don’t end up in institutions.

A majority of the volunteer parents we serve are Black and Latinx families.

AFFCNY provides what all families need to be successful parents.

Invest in families, not institutions.
